

From: West Virginia Law Review
To: Christensen, Andrew
Subject: Re: Permission to include article in online repository
Date: Friday, May 24, 2019 7:53:33 AM

Hi Mr. Christensen,

You certainly have our permission to do that. Let us know if you need anything else from us.

Best,

Quentin Collie
Editor-in-Chief
West Virginia Law Review, Vol. 122

On Wed, May 22, 2019 at 2:11 PM Christensen, Andrew <christensena@wlu.edu> wrote:

Dear West Virginia Law Review,

I'm requesting permission to include a PDF of the article cited below, published in the West Virginia Law Review and authored by one of our faculty members, in the Washington and Lee University School of Law institutional repository (<https://scholarlycommons.law.wlu.edu>). The item will then be viewable and downloadable by the general public, free of charge. This use will not generate profit for our institution.

Jill M. Fraley, Liability for Unintentional Nuisances: How the Restatement of Torts Almost Negligently Killed the Right to Exclude in Property Law, 121 W. Va. L. Rev. 419 (2018).

Please advise at your earliest convenience and thank you in advance for allowing this use. If you have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Andrew Christensen

WASHINGTON AND LEE
SCHOOL OF LAW

Andrew J. Christensen
Outreach and Electronic Services Librarian
Sydney Lewis Hall 321
Lexington, VA 24450
Office: 540-458-8554 Fax: 540-458-8967
christensena@wlu.edu | law.wlu.edu/library