Construction Features

Modular Design Concept . . . The unique design of PACE® wardrobes, dressing units and Wall-A-Beds® permits individual units to be grouped together using common sides. This feature effects a pleasing built-in appearance with a savings in space, cost and construction time.

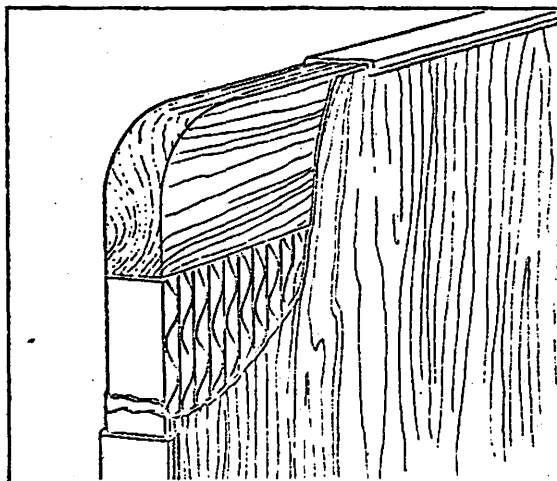

Common Sides

Storage walls use ganged bases with common sides. One side does work of two, saves space and expense.

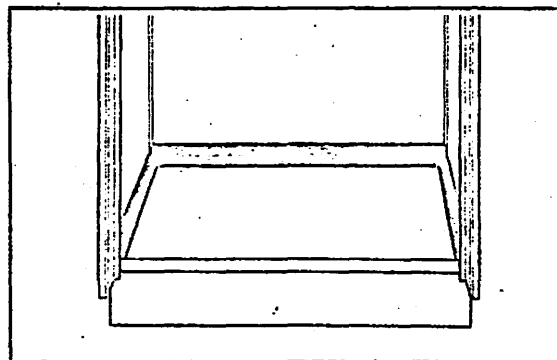

Honeycombed Door Construction

All doors are made of solid rolled sheet steel panels forming a box which is horizontally framed with wood and completely supported with honeycombed reinforcing and which is dimensionally stable with clean construction and appearance.

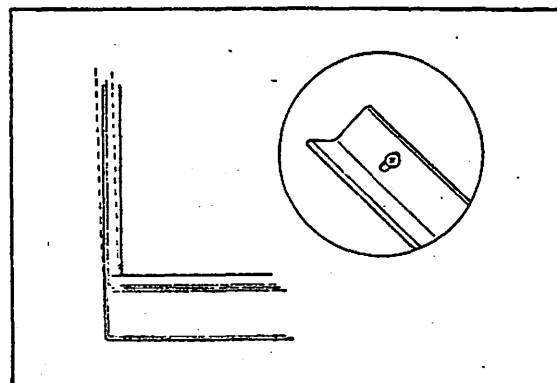

Seal-off Mouldings

Enameled metal mouldings seal-off floor perimeter of wardrobes eliminating cracks which catch dust and dirt.

Back Angle

Enameled steel upright back angles are slotted to adjust easily to provide a tight interior closure.

HERE'S HOW PACE CONSTRUCTION STANDS UP TO WEAR AND TEAR.

Check these exclusive features on the composite cutaway of a Pace bedside cabinet:

(1) Vacuum-formed Sim-Clad® drawer and cabinet door fronts are of high-impact thermoplastic, fully supported with rigid urethane foam backing. Sim-Clad is durable, easy-to-clean, and resists stains, scratches, bumps and burns. Rounded corners are safe, too.

(2) Handsome design alternatives come in four basic styles:

- (a) Elite II
- (b) Contemporary
- (c) Mediterranean
- (d) Classic

(3) One-piece, die-formed drawer bodies have rounded corners so clothes won't snag and dirt can't hide. And drawer bodies have a tough, laboratory-type acrylic finish.

(4) All drawer units have self-closing deluxe ball bearing suspension systems that are silent and dependable. The track system is an integral part of the die-formed drawer.

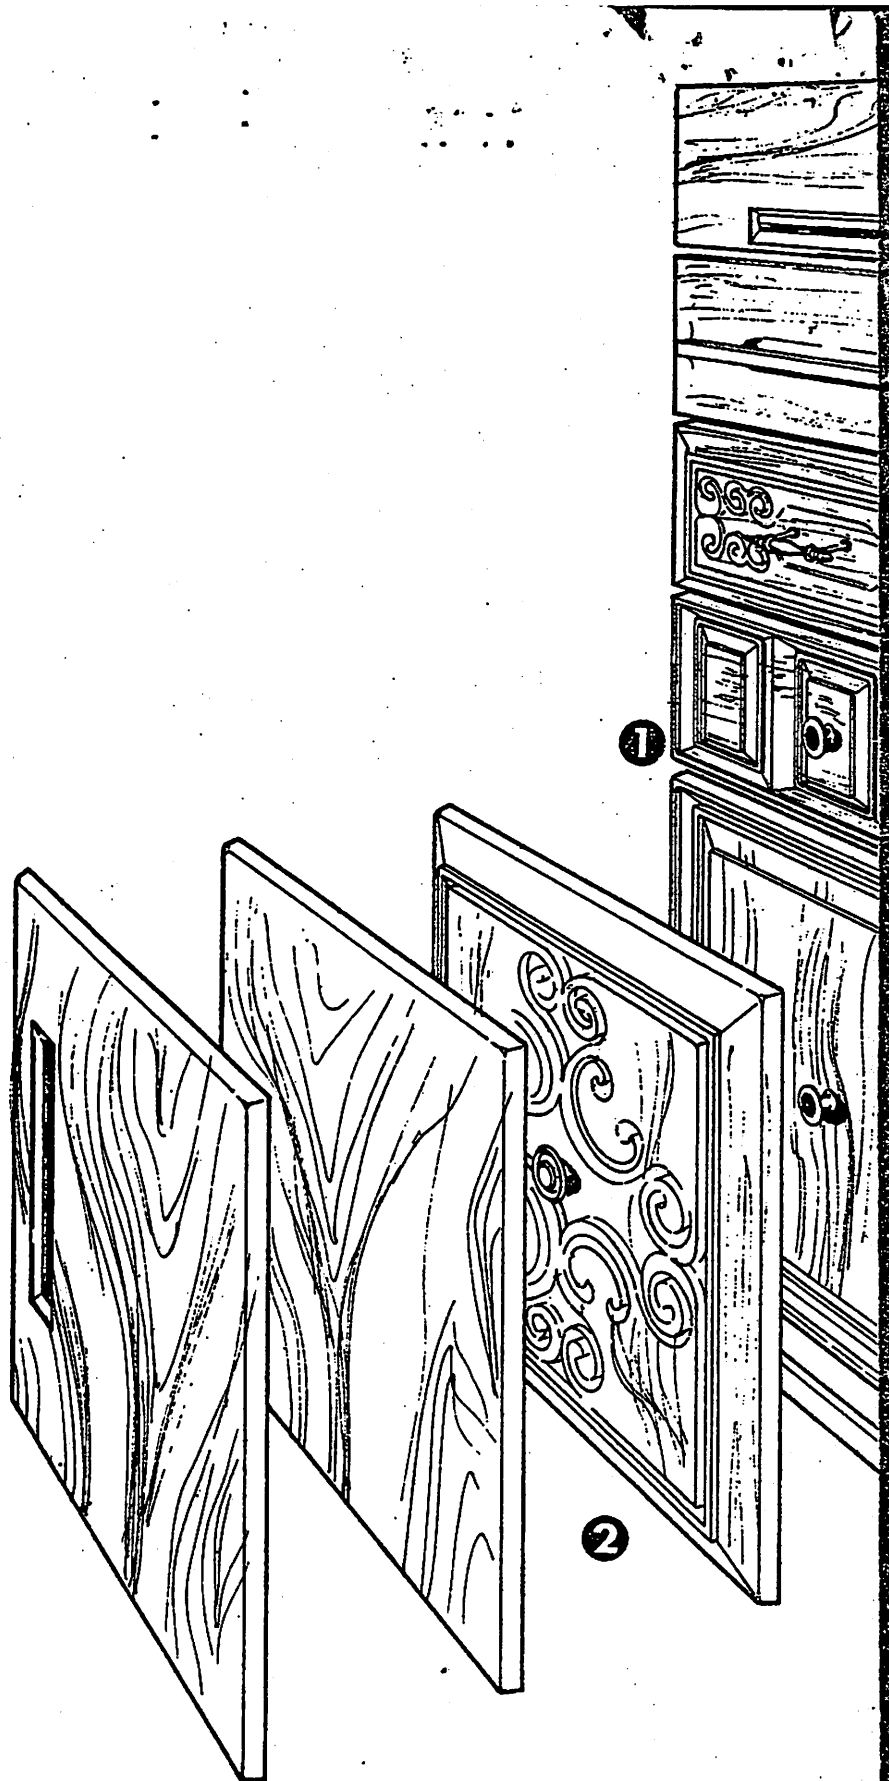

(5) The one-piece case body is roll-formed sheet steel.

(6) A square tubular steel A-frame gives the case extra strength and dimensional stability.

(7) Optional plastic laminate tops fight abrasions of all kinds but have the look and feel of quality.

(8) Choice of leg sleeve finishes with optional glides or orbital casters.

(9) All cases can be equipped with toe bases for easy and fast cleaning. Toe bases also guard against nicks and bumps from mobile equipment.
