Dear Bill:

Inasmuch as you have met our distinguished Justice from Richmond, I thought you would be interested in this editorial.

As far as I know, Powell hasn't voted wrong yet in the Supreme Court, and it is a most interesting thing that of all the bad things Nixon did, the fact that he put four good men on the Supreme Court, to my mind, makes up for most everything he has done on the wrong side, certainly for the long-run future of our country.

Sincerely yours,

J. Clifford Miller, Jr.
